President to Take Congress Into Confidence on Situation. WASHINGTON, Aug Zi.—President Wilson announced late today that he would prepare at once a message to congreen, netting forth in detail the purposes of John Lind's mission to Maxico, a summary of the American note and the reply of the Huerta government.

While the president has not finally decided whether he will read the message to both houses of congress, it was said on good authority that he was inclined

It is the president's intention to give congress a comprehensive narration on what has been attempted in Mexico by Mr. Lind. He will also give his conception of the policy pursued by the United States teward Mexico. The message will be made public simultaneously with its delivery to congress.

The president's hope is that the situa tion will disentangle itself, though he believes it will take a little time to dispel certain illusions possessed by the Huerta vernment as to the attitude of the American people and congress. The president let it be known the question was not a party one and that republican senators had shown an admirable spirit in his conferences with them and not the or over the line into Vermont or New York The president believes the debate congress today will serve to refute Fruerta that the administration's policy toward Mexico is not supported by all

Incidentally it was learned that since the presentation of the Huerta raply Monday, which has now been received in full at the State department, nothing of significance has occurred in confer-ences between John Lind and Senor Huerta. Mr. Lind has not abandoned hope, however, of convincing President Huorta of the argument made in the first Amerloan note, and there is no intention to recede from the attitude then taken.

Foreign governments which shitherto have been apprised by the American dip-lomatic corps abroad of the various steps the American policy toward Mexico, also will be given a copy of the presi dent's measure to congress.
